

PLUMEN

The origins

Since 2010 we've been exploring the worlds of art and design, combined with new technological resources that helped us uncover new ways to lighten up the homes and the lives of people all around the globe. During the years, we've been awarded with important prizes and international recognition, like the Design Brit Insurance of the Year and the British Design Awards by Elle Decoration. Plumen was also acknowledged by important designer collections like the Victoria&Albert Museum in London and the MoMa in New York.

New Era

The Plumen brand has changed hands, crossed the channel and is in the process of a full relaunch backed by a new Italian owner with decades of experience from the lighting industry. Operating as a fully independent entity, with its own marketing, sales and development teams, Plumen can count on an operational infrastructure that will allow it to proceed on the iconic path set by its founders whilst reaching new heights in terms of product development and ability to execute.

Designers

Samuel Wilkinson

Samuel Wilkinson graduated in furniture and related product design at Ravensbourne College of Art & Design in 2002. While at Ravensbourne Wilkinson won several design awards, including the RSA award and D&AD New Blood. He went straight into employment working for leading consultancies such as Tangerine, Fitch: London, PearsonLloyd, and Conran. During these years he worked on various award winning projects for leading clients such as British Airways, Audi, LG, Samsung, and Virgin Airways.

Hulger

Hulger is a London based innovation studio who conceive and co-design radical technology products. The name Hulger is inspired by Nicolas Roope's grandfather. Hølger was a lawyer who lived contentedly with the same phone, the same car, the same old grandfather clock that ticked slowly and contentedly and the same leather arm-chair for decades. He was of a generation and culture that had resisted the wasteful churn of built-in-obsolence. He bought lasting products that improved with age. He invested in beautiful technologies that didn't generate a fear-of-missing-out with every subsequent release.

001

ICONIC LED BULB

Revolutionary, iconic, unique. The Plumen 001 light bulb is the first energy-saving designer light bulb in the world. Compelling and refined, this product earned various important awards such as "Design of the Year" and "Product of the Year" from the London Design Museum, and the much-coveted "Black Pencil" award from D&AD. It was also published in high-profile international headlines and included in the MOMA, Cooper-Hewitt and V&A permanent collections. Compatible with any LED dimmer switch, this light bulb allows the user to control lighting based on their preferences.

002

ICONIC LED BULB

It all began from nature's most authentic shapes, combined with traits from the 001 light bulb: introducing Plumen 002. This design, set apart by its sculpted shape yet inspired by soft and fleeting water drops, won the ELLE Decoration British Design Award in 2014. Thanks to the warm lighting it's perfect for creating a cosy and welcoming atmosphere in any space or environment. Plumen 002 best adapts as a table lamp, applique or suspension lamp, even in series. Compatible with any LED dimmer switch, this light bulb allows the user to control lighting based on their preferences.
